

Rachna Clavero named Deputy CEO

Rachna Clavero, COG's Director, Nuclear Safety and Environmental Affairs (NSEA) will assume the role of Deputy CEO, effective Jan. 6, 2020, upon her return from secondment at Ontario Power Generation.

During this development opportunity, Rachna will continue to provide leadership to the NSEA team. As Deputy CEO, Rachna will interact more closely with COG's international members, program participants, industry partners and other key stakeholders. She will also further develop COG's enhanced international stature through participation and thought leadership at various global events.

COG President and CEO, Fred Dermarkar, says the announcement is in keeping with a commitment to succession planning within COG at all levels of the organization.

"I am proud to lead an organization committed to employee professional development. I have been proud on many occasions to see COG staff develop the skills, knowledge and experiences to grow within our organization," Dermarkar says.

For further information contact:

Jacque Hoornweg

COG Communications

Jacque.Hoornweg@candu.org